EVANDRO GUSSI is the Comptroller General of the Brazilian House of Representatives. Congressman elected in 2014 (2015-2019 term), Gussi was Green Party Chief Whip (2016-2017). Lawyer, registered in the Brazilian Bar Association, He is currently member, at the House of Representatives, of The Constitution and Justice Comittee as well as The Education and Culture Comittees. Under his leadership, the Brazilian Congress approved the "RENOVABIO" act, of its authorship, an important landmark for the biofuels sector.

GUSSI is S. J. D., Law, by University of São Paulo Law School (2009) and received a Master's degree in Law from the Law School of Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul (2005).